

You are invited to the

2023 SYMPOSIUM ON SEAFOOD PRODUCTION

The science, economics, and environmental effects of seafood production in New Zealand

Be the first to gain the latest sector insights from leaders in their field.

Join in the discussion and hear the answers to the hard questions.

Thursday 16 February 2023

9:00 am to 4:30 pm

Seafood New Zealand

7 Waterloo Quay
Wellington

SPEAKERS

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Professor Ray Hilborn
University of Washington

Seafood, a winner in low environmental food production impacts

Aaron Irving, SNZ Deepwater Council
Ecosystem Approach to Fisheries Management

Dion Tuuta, Te Atiawa Trust
The evolving nature of Māori fisheries and challenges for the future

Dr Stewart Ledgard, AgResearch
Seafood production has lower GHG emissions than food production on land

Hugh Dixon, Business and Economic Research Ltd (BERL)
The economic and social contribution of seafood to New Zealand's economy

Volker Kuntzsch, Cawthron Institute
No future without fishing

Tom McClurg, Toroa Strategy
Facilitator

Numbers are limited so please RSVP to inge@deepwatergroup.org by Feb 10. For more information: www.deepwatergroup.org/symposium.

 Seafood
New Zealand
DEEPWATER COUNCIL